

I am writing as the father of a 8 year old deaf boy who's understanding and enjoyment of selected t.v. programs has been made possible by the availability of closed captioning. However there are many moments that end in frustration for our son because not all of the programs he desires to watch have been close captioned. Our family is in strong support of any and all measures that would increase the availablity and accuracy of closed captioning.